Course Description (Catalog)

Explosive Incident Assessment: Methods, Practices, Protocols (3 hours)

This course is an overview of Explosive Ordnance Disposal (EOD). It provides a framework in which to evaluate Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) utilized by military and civilian Explosive Ordnance Disposal teams and Hazardous Devices teams in the field. The extremely hazardous nature of these operations lends itself to a detailed evaluation of the methods; practices and protocols used during live ordnance and emergency response calls. Formal EOD guidance contained in Military Instructions and Regulations, and Federal Codes of Regulation (CFRs) is examined as a reference and for operational compliance. They are evaluated for efficacy in meeting the often conflicting and demanding needs of EOD operators. Procedures covered include the full spectrum of military EOD Required Operational Capabilities. Included here are high risk evolutions such as diving and demolition operations, parachuting and rappelling operations, and, response to Weapons of Mass Destruction, and Small Arms Employment under hostile and time constrained conditions. The vulnerability and risk of specific EOD procedures, to terrorist actions is defined and proposed countermeasures are weighted for effectiveness. The application of industry "Best Practice" Risk Management processes is examined for application to the Explosive Ordnance Disposal field. [3 Semester Hours]

Course Objectives

Course Objectives:

- CO-1 Define the basic components of an EOD specific Emergency Response Standard Operating Procedure (SOP).
- CO-2 Describe the operational significance of the SOP components.
- CO-3 Identify the relevant EOD regulatory documents in terms of their guidance on emergency operations and procedures.
- CO-4 List the types of EOD emergency response situations.
- CO-5 Describe terrorist methods, practices and protocols.
- CO-6 Discuss the importance incident assessment in light of recent world events in a post 9/11 environment.
- CO-7 Recognize terrorism behaviors as products of strategic choice in order to best utilize appropriate risk management preventative measures.
- CO-8 Differentiate between the varieties of terrorism and assessing proper risk reduction practices.
- CO-9 Underline standard operational risk management (ORM) practices and their application via the development of explosive incident assessment processes.
- CO-10 Examine the importance, and role of the Department of Homeland Security (DHS), Department of Defense (DOD), Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA), and other State and Local organizations in relation to risk assessment and management issues and applications.

Course Delivery Method

This course will offer the student a highly interactive virtual classroom. Each week's lesson will have a weekly course announcement, assigned readings, and discussion group postings in the Forum section based on either course readings or an internet-based project, and notes provided by the instructor. The course will provide the student with the necessary knowledge of the international system to better appreciate and comprehend world events and motivations of the numerous international actors.

Since the student is expected to fully participate in Forums and interact with the instructor and other students, reading assignments and assigned projects should be completed in a timely manner.

CITATION AND REFERENCE STYLE

Assignments completed in a narrative essay or composition format must follow APA guidelines. This course will require students to use the citation and reference style established by the American Psychological Association (APA), in which case students should follow the guidelines set forth in Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (6th ed.). Washington, D.C.: American Psychological Association.

LATE ASSIGNMENTS

Students are expected to submit classroom assignments by the posted due date and to complete the course according to the published class schedule. As adults, students, and working professionals I understand you must manage competing demands on your time. Should you need additional time to complete an assignment please contact me before the due date so we can discuss the situation and determine an acceptable resolution. Routine submission of late assignments is unacceptable and may result in points deducted from your final course grade.

DISABILITY ACCOMMODATIONS

This institution complies with the Americans with Disabilities Act, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act, and state and local requirements regarding students with disabilities. In compliance with federal and state regulations, reasonable accommodations are provided to qualified students with disabilities.

A request for accommodation is deemed reasonable if the request:

- is based on documented individual needs.
- does not compromise essential requirements of a course or program.
- does not impose an undue financial or administrative burden upon APUS.

A qualified student can, with or without reasonable accommodations, perform the essential functions of program or course requirements. The essential requirements of an academic course or program need not be modified to accommodate an individual with a disability.

Final responsibility for selection of the most appropriate accommodation rests with the University's Disability Support Services Committee and is determined on an individual case-by-case basis, based on the nature of the student's disability. Students are encouraged email registrar@apus.edu to discuss potential academic accommodations and begin the review process. It is the student's responsibility to:

- follow the accommodation procedure outlined in this section,

- identify the disability to the staff and/or faculty of the university,
- provide (and incur expense for) current appropriate documentation of disability and accommodation needed from a qualified medical or other licensed professional, and
- request specific accommodations or services.

NETIQUETTE

Online universities promote the advance of knowledge through positive and constructive debate--both inside and outside the classroom. Discussions on the Internet, however, can occasionally degenerate into needless insults and "flaming." Such activity and the loss of good manners are not acceptable in a university setting--basic academic rules of good behavior and proper "Netiquette" must persist. Remember that you are in a place for the fun and excitement of learning that does not include descent to personal attacks, or student attempts to stifle the discussion of others.

- Technology Limitations: While you should feel free to explore the full-range of creative composition in your formal papers, keep e-mail layouts simple. The Educator classroom may not fully support MIME or HTML encoded messages, which means that bold face, italics, underlining, and a variety of color-coding or other visual effects will not translate in your e-mail messages.
- Humor Note: Despite the best of intentions, jokes and--especially--satire can easily get lost or taken seriously. If you feel the need for humor, you may wish to add "emoticons" to help alert your readers: ;-), :), ☺

ONLINE LIBRARY RESEARCH CENTER & LEARNING RESOURCES

The Online Library Resource Center is available to enrolled students and faculty from inside the electronic campus. This is your starting point for access to online books, subscription periodicals, and Web resources that are designed to support your classes and generally not available through search engines on the open Web. In addition, the Center provides access to special learning resources, which the University has contracted to assist with your studies. Questions can be directed to orc@apus.edu.

- Charles Town Library and Inter Library Loan: The University maintains a special library with a limited number of supporting volumes, collection of our professors' publication, and services to search and borrow research books and articles from other libraries.
- Electronic Books: You can use the online library to uncover and download over 50,000 titles, which have been scanned and made available in electronic format.
- Electronic Journals: The University provides access to over 12,000 journals, which are available in electronic form and only through limited subscription services.
- Turnitin.com: Turnitin.com is a tool to improve student research skills that also detect plagiarism. Turnitin.com provides resources on developing topics and assignments that encourage and guide students in producing papers that are intellectually honest, original in thought, and clear in expression. This tool helps ensure a culture of adherence to the University's standards for intellectual honesty. Turnitin.com also reviews students' papers for matches with Internet materials
